THE CHANGES.

Interesting Events to Come at Washington.

Result of Election Will Give to the Democrats a Large Number of Offices in Congress.

With the restoration of the Democratic party to power in the House of Representatives after March 4 next there will come, coincidental with the reorganization of that body, the filling of many places with Democrats. New officers of the House will have to be chosen in place of Col. Alexander McDowell, the present clerk; Col. Henry M. Casson, the sergeant-at-arms; also a new doorkeeper in place of F. B. Lyon, and possibly a new chaplain, postmaster and parliamentarian. There are scores of clerkships to be filled and private secretarieships to the chairmen of sixty-two large committees of the House. Altogether there will be several hundred choice posts, practically all of which are now filled by Republicans, mainly from Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan and Pennsylvania, and the selection of their successors will give a number of the young men of the South a chance for promotion.

Most of the minor positions, such as committee clerkships and private secretarieships, will cease on March 4, when the defeated Republicans go out of power. Only those whose members were retained will remain, but the more important posts, such as the doorkeeper and postmaster will continue to be filled by their present occupants until their successors are chosen. Statute law provides for this, so that when the time rolls around for the actual organization of the next Congress there will be somebody on hand with authority to set the machinery in motion.

The incoming Sixty-second Congress, which is not scheduled to meet until December, 1911, unless, of course, President Taft calls it into extraordinary session, will be called to order by a Republican. When the gavel falls in the presence of that great gathering of the House with a majority of some sixty-odd, for control, that symbol of the speakership will be in the hands of Col. Alexander McDowell. Under the statute law of the land Col. McDowell will not only call the new Congress to order, so far as the House is concerned, but he will likewise preside over the deliberations of the House until a Speaker is chosen. There is no one else who could do so, as there will be no officers of the House until after the House has determined upon the election of its Speaker and other officers.

It will also devolve upon Col. McDowell to make up the tentative unofficial list of members of the Sixty-second Congress and to handle the preliminary proceedings relative to the election contests to be filed in some of the close districts. Therefore, under the law Col. McDowell and the other major officers of the House will hold office until the Sixty-second House meets December, 1911, if necessary.

There are intimations that President Taft will call a special session of the Sixty-second Congress immediately after the adjournment of the coming short session of the Sixty-first Congress and send in a message on the tariff. That Mr. Taft has been rather strongly impressed by the verdict of the people on the tariff is certain, but whether he intends to call an extra session depends upon the advice he receives when Congress meets in December and its effect upon his intentions.

Those holders of House jobs, whose necks would feel the ax in the event of the session being called to meet earlier than December, 1911, and the men responsible for their appointment will resist any extra session, because the moment the next Congress meets and is organized that moment these Republicans will lose their jobs. However, considerations of policy may weigh heavier with Mr. Taft than mere matters of patronage and it is not improbable that he will call the new House together next spring and recommend tariff revision, in an effort to see whether a Democratic majority can satisfy the country. Republicans are already predicting Democratic failure, but the Democrats intend to act with wisdom and deliberation and are not afraid to tackle the tariff when it is reached.

We Observed the Day.

The last Thursday in November found our people in a contented frame of mind, willing observe and give thanks. So on yesterday we manifested a disposition to go to church, to abstain from labor, if possible, to eat, drink and be thankful for what we had and that, as poor old black Uncle Jim used to say "things is as well with us as what they am." The previously announced church services were held the school children had a holiday and numerous tables were loaded with the best things of life. Turkey, game, oysters, chicken, roasts, steaks, all manner of excellent vegetables, all manner of relishes and all manner of cake—layer cake, sponge cake, eight egg cake, fruit cake, nut cake, blackberry cake, devil cake, angel cake and, later stomachache.

The News feels safe in saying that probably there is not in Louisa anyone so poor that he could not on this day of thanksgiving provide a good dinner for himself and his family. If there be such and their condition was known the hospitality and generosity of our people would supply every needed want, and more.

GOOD AMATEUR PLAY.

The Actor's Club, of Paintsville, Give a Good Performance.

The Actor's Club, of Paintsville, visited Louisa on Wednesday last and presented to a large and highly pleased audience at Masonic Hall the romantic and thrilling play of Nevada, or The Lost Mine. The performance was something of a surprise, in that it was out of the ordinary "Western drama," and because of the excellence of the players both as individuals and as a whole. There was scarcely the slightest hitch in the rendition of the three acts, the dialogue and the stage "business" moving along with entire smoothness and promptness. Every participant was "letter perfect" in every part, and if there was any prompting the audience was not aware of it. The costuming and the make up were excellent and quite professional. The male characters did so well that it would be unfair to make any comparisons. They acted spiritedly and intelligently, two or three of them in a manner above the acting of amateurs. There were three young ladies in the cast, Miss Gneeva Wells, and Miss Rusha Kirk, of Paintsville, and Miss Goldie Ward, of River. These young ladies "brought down the house." Not only did they know their lines and look and act their parts, but in vocal modulation, facial expression and fetching bits of by-play they were to use an allowable piece of slang, "impense." Paintsville has much reason to be proud of its Actor's Club.

Mingo Men Buy Fine Store.

Dr. Herbert M. Coleman, of Matewan, W. Va., has been here for a few days and purchased a fancy saddle mare that he will ship to his home. He was accompanied by Dr. A. G. Rutherford, who invested a good sum in a fancy saddle horse and a fine Jersey cow, that will have shipped to his West Virginia home.—Maysville Bulletin.

Hunting in Automobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Burchett and Dr. "Bo" Fulkerson took a hunt in the Burchett automobile Tuesday. They went to Yatesville in pursuit of birds and beasts, and had a fine outing. The amount of game captured is not told, except by one young lady who frankly admitted that she fired twice and all she got was a bruised arm,

Will Use Core Drill.

The core drill which has played so prominent a part in the development of this immediate section, is to be brought into use by the Consolidation Coal Co., which will make a thorough search for coal underground on its vast holdings on Millers creek. It is the opinion of experts that a larger and better vein of coal lies a few feet underground throughout this entire section, and the Consolidation Coal Co. will make a thorough investigation of its property with this belief in view. Whitehouse proved to be a great coal field even after the hill coal had all been mined. The underground coal has proven better than the coal found in the hill there and the Fluhrat Co. is now working a six foot vein that is found ninety feet underground.

Toney-Arnett.

L. M. Toney, janitor at the court house, received a letter this morning from his daughter, Miss Gazella Toney, who is teaching at Fort Gay, W. Va., announcing the fact that she will be married Thursday to Mr. Edward Arnett, a young man of that place. The wedding will be simple and quiet in all its features and will be witnessed by only a few of the more intimate friends of the principals. Miss Toney is a most excellent young lady and has a host of friends here who will join in wishing her unbounded success and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Arnett will reside in Fort Gay, where the groom is employed.—Ironton Register.

Shot While in Bed at Home.

Pikeville, Ky., Nov. 15.—R. F. Blankenship, the night watchman at the big sawmill of George J. Walker, at Phelps, on Peter creek, this county, while in bed at his home last Wednesday night, was shot with a shotgun and killed instantly. The wife of Blankenship and a man known as "Hyena" Collins were arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime, and were brought here last night and lodged in jail, which was the first news of the affair to reach here. Much mystery surrounds the case, and we have been able thus far to glean only the bare facts in this case, which is likely to prove to be a most sensational one.

Will Go To Washington.

John Chapman, a well known and worthy citizen of Louisa, will make for himself and family a home in the far off State of Washington. He has bought a $6,000 fruit farm, and if samples of its products are fair ones he has struck it rich. He has been there several months, and his family will join him soon. They will live near the town of Malaga, near some other former Sandians.

BLANKENSHIP RELEASED.

Telegram From Texas Says He Was Turned Loose a Few Days Ago.

According to a telegram received from a detective at El Paso Monday, Ben Blankenship was released because the terms of the captors were not complied with by the interested parties here.

After the arrest the authorities telegraphed here demanding a deposit of the $500 reward. A deposit of $400 was made and the bank wired this fact. It was then, according to the latest information, that the man was turned loose.

The reports from El Paso said that Blankenship had surrendered and Gov. Willson notified Mr. Waller that he could not pay the reward on a surrender. The $400 was then put up by Mr. Waller.

Just what steps will now be taken is not known.

Sentiment Must Be Made.

The News jogs the memory of taxpayers concerning the near approach of the day before which all State and county taxes must be paid. November 30th, next Wednesday is the last day of grace. After that date the penalty will be added.

TWO MEN SHOT.

Mysterious Tragedy at Matewan, W. Va.

One Dead and the Other Will Probably Lose His Life From Blood Poisoning.

Mr. Lewis Rutherford, one of the best known residents of Mingo county, died in the Matewan hospital Wednesday morning as the result of a pistol wound sustained Thursday night of last week.

William Thaxton, of Matewan, who was shot at the same time, is in the Welch hospital for treatment and it was reported Friday that his condition is quite serious.

Many reports have been circulated as to how these two men were shot and it has been impossible to learn the exact facts. No arrests had been made at the time of going to press, says the Mingo Republican.

One report connects James Crawford, of Matewan, with the affair. Crawford and Rutherford were friends and it is said that Mr. Rutherford stated that if Crawford did the shooting it was accidental.

At first Mr. Rutherford paid no attention to his wound. The ball entered his leg two inches below the knee and severed the tibial artery but it was not until the next day that he went to a physician.

Friday morning he was taken to the Matewan hospital but it was not until Tuesday that the limb was amputated. Gangrene had set in and the physicians could do nothing to save his life. Dr. A. G. Rutherford, son of the wounded man, was away when the shooting occurred and did not reach his father's side until Monday. Dr. H. D. Hatfield was then summoned and the operation was performed at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Rutherford rallied for a time but died at three o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. Rutherford had lived in Mingo county nearly all his life and was widely known. He is survived by the following children: Dr. A. G. Rutherford, of Thacker; Lawrence, of Matewan; Dr. Lafe, of Oklahoma; Dr. G. C. of Indian Territory; Donnie, a student at the state university, and Leonard and Robert at home.

The funeral was held Wednesday evening and interment followed in the family graveyard about three miles west of Matewan.

LATER:—We are informed by reliable man who was at Matewan soon after the shooting that it was without provocation further than a political soreness resulting from the election a few days previous. The man who is charged with the crime is of opposite politics from that of the two men who were shot and is said to be a tool of gang that is in control. He is said to have had a revolver in each side coat pocket and did the shooting without removing the pistols from his pockets. He pretended to be shooting for amusement and without any intention of injuring anyone.

Mingo county has some of the toughest holes on earth and should be cleaned up.

The First Red Ad.

It is hardly necessary to call the attention of our readers to the large advertisement of Mr. J. Isalsky, the merchant. It appears in flaming color that will burn its way into the consideration of the 10,000 people who buy, beg, borrow and steal the Big Sandy News each week. This advertisement has the distinction of being the first to be printed in red in the News within the twenty-five years of its existence. The extra cost to the advertiser is considerable, but he feels justified in making the outlay on this occasion because he has an unusually strong message to give to the people of this territory. Having been very fortunate in buying an immense quantity of goods at a fraction of their value he is offering them to the public for quick sale at proportionately low figures. He promises the largest special sale and the greatest values yet offered to the people of the Big Sandy valley. Those who have attended his special sales here-tofore can best appreciate what great bargains he gives.

Prices the same to everybody. All rolls and articles are marked in plain figures and no deviation will be made from them in any case. Don't miss this sale if you have any desire to save money. Read the advertisement entirely through and get the dates. It lasts only 19 days.

Enthusiastic Nimrod.

Lace Marcum, one of the most enthusiastic nimrods of Huntington, has already been consigned to the hospital, or to his home, as a result of injuries received during his third day out in the bush, since the quail season opened. He must have had too heavy a charge in his gun, as it appears to have shot both ways when he pulled the trigger on a covey of quail. Received some bruises from the impact of the gun and his body on his body that has disabled him from further service in the field for a few days. —Ceredo Tribune.

Judge Marcum for Speaker.

As the House of Delegates will be Democratic why not elect Judge W. W. Marcum of Wayne county Speaker? Although the editor of this paper and Judge Marcum do not agree as regards to politics we should like to see the judge elected Speaker of the West Virginia House of Delegates.—Ceredo Advance.

LARGE COOKING PLANT.

East Kentucky to Have One of the Largest in the World.

Representatives of the Consolidation Coal Co., a gigantic concern which recently acquired 100,000 acres of coking coal lands in Eastern Kentucky, a large percentage of which lies in Letcher county, along Boone's Fork and the headwaters of Elkhorn Creek, makes the announcement that they will begin within the next few months one of the largest coking coal plants in the entire South. The exact location of the plant has not yet been determined, but it will be either in the neighborhood of the head of Boone's Fork or the head of the Elkhorn, near the center of the main coal field. Thousands of hands will be employed in opening miners' houses from the beginning and millions of dollars will be expended in developments.

The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad has decided to build from the north onto the property, a distance of about twenty-five miles, while the Louisville and Nashville is now rapidly constructing its line from the south, up the north fork of the Kentucky River, both lines of which will give ample shipping connections. The Consolidation Coal Co., is not the only company that will make developments, as there are other concerns which have acquired large holdings, all of which will be developed within the next twelve months.

Union Church at Van Lear.

Van Lear is soon to have a fine church building which will be known as Union Church, every denomination that cares to be given opportunity to hold services in the building. A committee of citizens representing the different denominations will act as trustees of the church and will so arrange dates that there will be no conflict between denominations. The idea is to have harmony in matters of religion at Van Lear. The idea is a good one and we hope to see it succeed. —Paintsville Herald.

PUT FAIR VALUATION.

If sheep growers are not careful the dog tax will be repealed and they will receive nothing for their sheep destroyed. Place only a fair and just valuation on sheep killed by dogs and the tax will go farther. There is considerable complaint, whether just or unjust, that damages have been assessed entirely too high in many instances. —Mt. Olivet Tribune Democrat.

Celebrated Their Golden Wedding.

On the 21st day of November, 1860, in the town of Paintsville, Johnson county, Ky., was solemnized the marriage of Samuel Patton Hager and Angelina Brown, daughter of Judge Thomas S. Brown, and one of the foremost of Eastern Kentucky's brainy men. The late lamented Dr. Zephaniah Meek was the officiating clergyman, he then being but a young mountain divine, and this being the first marriage to which he was called to officiate. Monday at their home on East Winchester avenue, Ashland, with their children and grandchildren, this lovable and loving bride and groom of fifty years ago celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their happy marriage.

Was Buried Saturday.

The funeral and burial of Mrs. T. D. Marcum, whose death was chronicled in this paper last week, took place on Saturday last, the funeral services being held in the Baptist church and the interment in the city cemetery. For one hour the business houses were closed, and the solemn service was conducted by the pastors of the Baptist, Southern Methodist and Presbyterian churches. For many years Mrs. Marcum was a resident of Louisa, living first in the J. C. Thomas house and then in the residence now occupied by M. S. Burns. She is remembered with great respect and esteem by all who knew her.

Killed in Carter County.

Grayson, Ky., Nov. 23.—Sheriff C. M. Gibbons and Deputy E. Lewis, of West Union, Adams county, O., trailing James P. Smith and William Purkee and John Gaskins, who broke jail Thursday night and escaped through the hills from Concord, Ky., to four miles of Grayson, came upon them. When the officers demanded surrender Smith opened fire upon Lewis as he jumped from the buggy, and fired four shots. Lewis and Gibbons returned the fire, Lewis killing Smith instantly. Purkee and Gaskins ran to the woods and were overtaken by the officers and are now in jail there.

An inquest was held, the verdict of the jury vindicating the officers.

Why Taft Hurried to Panama.

The cross section of the Gatun spillway dam is an ogee, made up of an arc of a parabola, a tangent, and the arc of a circle, the parabola being such that when the stream flowing over the crest is six feet or more in depth the nappe will adhere to the downstream face of the dam. (From the Canal Commission's Report.)

This is simply dreadful. The News hopes the condition has been exaggerated.

KILLED HIS COUSIN.

John Dials Perkins Fatally Shot by Anderson Perkins at Webbville.

John Dials Perkins was killed Wednesday night near Webbville, this county. Anderson Perkins is charged with the crime, but has not yet been arrested. The men were first cousins.

The trouble arose amongst some women of the neighborhood, who engaged in a fight. The battle became so fierce that the man took a hand. Perkins was shot in the neck and death was almost instantaneous. The ball struck the vertebra and broke it.

The dead man leaves a wife and two children. He was about 33 years old. Anderson Perkins is 31 and has no family.

Feeling is running high in the neighborhood and further trouble is reported to be imminent. The killing occurred at Cherokee Gap, three miles from Webbville.

Gave a Thousand.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 21.—Much enthusiasm was caused tonight, among the workers for the Model School when a contribution of $1,000 was received from John C. Mayo, of Paintsville.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

The Jolly Girl.

The jolly girl is born, not made; no training or endeavor can counterfeited her. There are those, to be sure, who affect jollity, but it is only skindeep, says a writer in Harper's Bazaar. The jolly girl is jolly under adverse circumstances—in bad weather; when she hasn't a cent to her name; when she has the toothache; when she has lost her situation; when she breaks her needle; when her back hair tumbles down in public; when she is shopping; when her masculine neighbor at the theater goes out and when he returns; when her bills are due. She never seems to indulge in that feminine luxury "the blues" and it is a mistake to suppose that she is noisy; there is jollity of the lady-like, aristocratic sort, as well as of the fish-wife order.

The girl who makes up her mind that jollity is the proper cue, and that she will be lively or die usually overdoes the business she thinks that it chiefly consists in laughing and in chattering nonsense, that is a manner of speech merely, rather than a quality of the mind which disposes one to make the best of everything, to see the rainbow on the cloud and the silver lining behind it, to make the wrinkle in the rose leaf a cause of mirth. Some believe that jollity is an affair of embonpoint; but who has not been disappointed in finding the stout woman melancholy and the thin one vivacious, the bilious person full of good-humor and the person whose digestion never gave her a moment's uneasiness quite the reverse? The jolly girl can not suppress herself, and assumes sadness or pensiveness languishing airs do not sit well upon her, but show at a glance, that they are borrowed plumes. One is never dull with her. She has that infinite variety which all the world covets and loves. It may be a desirable thing that those who have not this natural grace should cultivate and encourage it in themselves and others, since it brightens and strengthens life, makes rough places smoother and pleasant places pleasanter. Possibly it is no special virtue in the jolly girl any more than blue eyes in the blonde maiden or red hair in the Titianesque. Jollity flows from her presence just as the nightingale's flitting bubbles from his throat and enchants the world; just as the poet pours forth his son, "in profuse strains of unpremeditated art," just as the tree blossoms, the grasses spout, the stars shine, without effort, without design, with sincerity and constancy and spontaneity. Let her be shipwrecked, or an invalid stranded on a bed of pain yet she does not lose or abate that peculiar trait which makes sunshine for those about her and sweeps the cobwebs out of their sky.

Return of the Prodigal Son in 1910.

No, it isn't that the world has grown hard hearted; it isn't that we aren't just as glad today to see the prodigal come back and just as lovingly anxious to welcome him home as ever was anybody in the 15th chapter of Luke. It is the manner in which the prodigal son of 1910 frequently returns that throws a wet blanket over the festivities of the welcome. When he comes down the road with his hat hanging on his ear and his hands in his pockets; when he kicks the faithful old house-dog as he lounges at the gate; when he calls his father "Gov'nor" and the hired man "Cull," when he wants to know, "what's for dinner?" before he has been in the house fifteen minutes; when he gives his elder brother two fingers to shake, and advises him to comb the hayseed out of his hair, when he throws himself into the easiest chair in the house perches his feet on the window sill and announces that he'll "take a tub before dinner," when he comes back with a generally forgiving air of good fellowship about him, and tries to make all the rest of the family feel very easy and reassured—then it is my son that your father longs to run and meet you while you are a great way off and fall upon your neck with plow line and well you into a state of becoming humility and penitence by the time you are able to take off your hat to the bound boy, and crawl up to the front steps to ask your brother to shake hands with you. Good people are just as glad today as ever they were, to see a prodigal come home, but it does rattle them a little to see him come home in a huck and ask them to pay the driver and send for his baggage.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

Be thankful—your blessings have been many.

Be considerate of others as well as yourself.

Hide your griefs and display your smiles.

If you have but little, partake of it gratefully.

Let the joy in your heart bubble up like a spring.

If you are short of water, don't quench beer.

As you feast on the fat of the land remember the giver.

Manifest your sympathy by acts as well as words.

As you tickle your palate do not do injustice to your stomach.

As you have been prospered, share with the unfortunate.

Through the fast passing day speak kind words while you may.

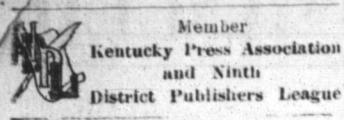

Let no act of kindness ever withdrawn for the dear ones about us may soon be gone.

Be good and do good wherever you roam, and especially display these traits at your home.

The bodies of John G. Carlisle, former Secretary of the Treasury, and his wife will be transferred from Washington to Covington the last of this week for final interment.

"If our prohibitive tariff were made more competitive, if it were actually lowered," declares the Massachusetts Democratic platform, "more goods would be imported, prices would fall and yet the revenue would increase. We demand the removal of taxes on foodstuffs and other necessities of life, a tariff low enough on all manufactured articles to prevent the control of our markets by the trusts and to impose the check of competition upon inordinate profits of capital." Here is good Democratic doctrine and we commend it to the new Congress.

Thos. J. Coates, one of the two supervisors of education appointed by the State Superintendent of Education, is a native of Pike county.

PIKEVILLE.

Mrs. R. F. Blankenship and a man known as "Hyena" Collins are confined in the county jail here having been accused of murdering the woman's husband at their home at Phelps, this county, one night last week, by shooting him with a shotgun, while he was asleep in bed. There seems to be little doubt as to their guilt.

Mrs. Joan Elliott is here from Charlottesville, Va., the guest of her daughter, Mrs. James Draper Francis at their West Pikeville home.

The directors of the Elkhorn Land Improvement Company met last Saturday and decided on making much needed improvement of their property at Elkhorn City and to that end decided to spend about ten thousand dollars by way of establishing all of the exterior lines, planting stones and marking plainly the corners and boundary lines and fencing the exterior lines with wire, and grading the streets and alleys. This company will also construct side walks in front of the unsold lots in both Elkhorn City and East Elkhorn City and mapping same and will install a water and sewerage system and build some houses. This will be done so that same may be in better condition to be placed on the market thereby that it may result in more advantageous prices. There is strong talk of the building of a high school and college there next summer.

Miss Maybel Perry, who is teaching at Paintsville will be the Thanksgiving guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. H. Flannery, here. Jim Press Power has returned from a successful hunting trip at down river points.

A BIT OF ADVICE.

First—Don't Delay. Second—Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache; head aches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. The kidneys are calling for help. Slight symptoms of kidney trouble are but fore-runners of more serious complaints. They should be given attention before it is too late.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Louisa residents desire more convincing proof than the statement of a Louisa citizen who says that the cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected years ago has proven permanent?

Mrs. C. A. Evans, of Louisa, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave such entire satisfaction in our family that in January 1908, I publicly recommended them. Doan's Kidney Pills were used for a weak ad lame back, caused by disordered kidneys and they made a complete and permanent cure. I willingly allow the continued publication of my former testimonial."

ARRAIGNED AS A BLASPHEMER

Matthew 26:57-68—November 27
"Who when he was reviled, reviled not again." 1 Peter 2:23.

We cannot do better at the opening of this study than quote the words of Mr. Chandler. He said: "Many remarkable trials have characterized the judicial history of mankind. The trial of Socrates, before the dicastery of Athens, charged with corrupting the Athenian youth, with blaspheming the Olympic gods and seeking to destroy the constitution of the Athenian Republic, is still a sublime and thrilling chapter in the history of a wonderful people."

"The trial of Alfred Dreyfus is still fresh in the memories of men. The French Republic is still rent by contending factions. His friends say that Dreyfus was a Prometheus who was chained to an ocean-girt rock while the vulture of exile preyed upon his heart. His enemies still assert that he was a Judas who betrayed, not God nor Christ, but France and the Fatherland. But these trials, one and all, were tame and commonplace compared with the trial and crucifixion of the Galilean peasant, Jesus of Nazareth."

In Defense of the Jews

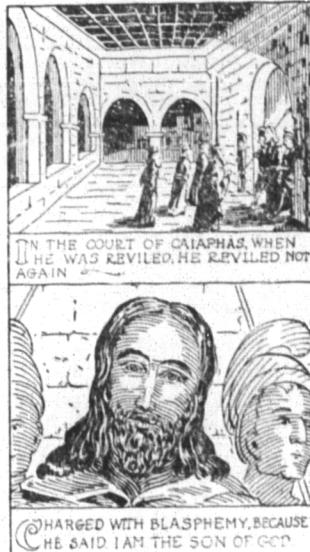

It is not for us to say that the Jews were wholly excusable in their course of injuries toward Jesus in causing his crucifixion by the Romans. On the other hand, it is proper for us to consider everything that could be thought of calculated to mitigate the severity of our judgment regarding the injustices they practised. And it is proper also that we should consider what, from their standpoint, would seem to be extenuating circumstances. This is everywhere recognized as just treatment. The attorney, defending a criminal who has plead guilty to the charges against him, is considered to do only his duty by his criminal client when he presents whatever in the circumstances of the case would tend to prove that the culprit had cause, or thought that he had a reason for his misdemeanor.

Viewing the Jewish people of nearly nineteen centuries ago from this standpoint we get a more reasonable view of the situation than is otherwise possible. We hearken first to St. Peter's words respecting the transaction. He said, "I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers." Had they known, they would not have killed the Prince of Life (Acts iii. 15-17).

The Jews did not for one moment suppose that the great Messiah, foretold to be their Prophet, Priest and King—like unto Moses, but greater; like unto David and Solomon, but greater; like unto Melchizedek, but greater—would appear as "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." Although those very words were written of him by the Prophet, they were hidden from their eyes of understanding by the glorious things related of him in other prophecies. They saw the glories. They saw not, understandingly, the sufferings. To this day they interpret the sufferings of their nation as being those which will ultimately inure to their advantage. The prophetic descriptions are not concentrated, nor collected, but scattered, "here a little and there a little," so written that they could not be understood at the time; nor were they understood even by the Lord's disciples until after his resurrection from the dead, when he explained them, and subsequently, by the holy Spirit, ennings of the "Body of Christ" began—the sufferings of "the Church, which is his Body"—filling up the measure of the afflictions of Christ, which are behind (Colossians i. 24). As soon as the "Church, the Body of Christ," shall have finished the bearing of the cross, after him, following in his steps to the end of the journey, then the Kingdom glories will be ushered in. Israel's blindness will be turned away and the blessing of the Lord will begin to fill the whole earth.

The Jews, who caused the crucifixion of Jesus, certainly did so in much the same spirit which led St. Paul—then Saul of Tarsus—to cause the stoning of St. Stephen. As Saul was forgiven, so Israel is to be forgiven; as the Scriptures declare, "The Lord will pour upon them the spirit of prayer and supplication," and then they will see, with the eyes of their understanding, "him whom they pierced and they will all mourn for him" (Zechariah xii. 10), and their mourning will be turned into joy; for, as Joseph forgave his brethren, so will this great antitypical Joseph of the throne of earth freely forgive those who caused his crucifixion.

Politics and Selfishness as Religion

The Jews are not so different from other people now, nor were they then. History indicates that some of their highest offices were held by irreligiousists for their political influence; thus the chief-priests, at the first advent of our Lord, was a Sadducee, who wholly disbelieved in the promises of God to Israel, including a disbelief in the resurrection of the dead. Similarly today there are high-priests, both amongst Jews and Christians, who disbelieve, and yet hold high positions. Amongst Christians there are D. D.'s who are unbelievers and many of the most notable rabbis amongst the Jews also declare themselves thorough unbelievers. We are not claiming that such unbelieving Christians and Jewish ministers would lightly espouse and support an unjust procedure against an innocent man. We do not know about this. It has yet to be tested, perhaps. We do know, however, that when faith ye did it, as did also your rulers." Had they known, they would not have killed the Prince of Life (Acts iii. 15-17).

Taking history for it, that the leaders of Judaism at the time of our Lord were Higher Critical unbelievers (Sadducees), we can readily see that their policy was to curry favor with the Roman Emperor and to seek to hold the common people in subjection to themselves. To these, then, it must have seemed almost a calamity that a poor man, although of noble birth, of the family of David and the Tribe of Judah, should gather about him a handful of nondescript fishermen, tax-gatherers, etc.; that he should pronounce himself a king and declare the setting up of his Kingdom to be near, and that by the exercise of some supernatural power for the healing of their diseases he should attract the "common people" to his standard, but not the learned. We can well imagine their reasoning that, if this thing, the popularity of Jesus, continued to increase, it would shortly reach the ears of the Roman Emperor and then all their claims for imperial favor would be discounted and they would be rated as a nation of rebels.

The riding of Jesus into Jerusalem, just before the Passover, on an ass, after the manner of the kings of Israel and surrounded by a multitude shouting, "Hosanna to the Son of David, who cometh in the name of the Lord," capped the climax, so to speak, and convinced these unbelieving Jews, politicians, and upyong religious offices, that it would be far better that one innocent man should die than that the whole nation should be turned into turmoil and wrecked by the Romans in consequence. How many American preachers, judges, officials, etc., would in this enlightened day be inclined similarly to decide such a matter! And is not this the policy which always prevails in monarchies? Fancy such a commotion in the capital of Germany, Italy, France, Austria, Russia, Great Britain, the United States. Fancy that after such a parade, mimic though it might appear, the adored one should go to the temple and execute a long-neglected law and, in thus exercising his religious rights, suppose that he should drive out the money-changers and merchants from the outer precincts of their chief religious "Cathedral!" What would be done to such a person today? Do we not know that in the most civilized lands he would be arrested and imprisoned, and in the more savage lands he would be beaten to death?

abated them still more fully to understand that thus it was written in the prophets and thus it behoved the Son of Man to suffer before entering into his glory—before beginning the work of blessing Israel and the world. Yes, today many Christians are as deeply confused on this matter as are the Jews. Many have rejected entirely the thought of Messiah's glorious Kingdom reign for the general blessing and uplifting of Israel and all humanity. From their standpoint, if "the sufferings of Christ" were intended to prepare the way and usher in his Kingdom of glory, then the program must have failed, or else his Kingdom of glory is to be a heavenly one and not, as they believe, in accord with the prayer taught by our Lord, "Thy Kingdom come: thy will be done on earth." The trouble is that they will not realize that where the sufferings of Christ, the Head, ended, the sufferings of the "Body of Christ" began—the sufferings of "the Church, which is his Body"—filling up the measure of the afflictions of Christ, which are behind (Colossians i. 24).

Brought Before Caiaphas

It was very courageous on the part of St. Peter that, after having smitten off the ear of the High Priest's servant (though the wound was healed by Jesus), he followed his Master into the Court of that high-priest to see what would be done. The arraignment was at night, although it was contrary to Jewish Law to try a prisoner at night for any serious offense. But there was an excuse. This was a special case; haste was necessary, because whatever would be done must be done quickly; the very next day the unbelieving officials perceived it Jesus had great influence with common people. They believed him to be a brilliant but harmless fool. He had committed no crime, but he was a disturber of the peace, and they felt fully justified in taking his life. The Feast of Passover was at hand and would last a week and it would be contrary to their Law that any execution should take place during that week. Besides, they feared the amount of influence which Jesus might exercise during the week, when there would be from one to two millions of people in and around Jerusalem from all over Palestine. They had already determined that their action must be short, sharp and decisive. This was decided before the arrest was made. They were ready and waiting at that midnight hour to carry out their murderous designs, for the good of their nation, as they thought.

The examination was merely a preliminary one to get together such evidence as at the morning Tribunal could be rushed through rapidly at a rearranged session.

He Was Charged With Blasphemy

They had difficulty in finding a charge. For what had Jesus ever done except acts of kindness and the uttering of words of wisdom and correction and hope? Blasphemy was a serious charge under the Jewish code. They would charge him with that as being the easiest to prove. He had said, when near the Temple, "Destroy this Temple, and I will rear it up in three days." "But he spake of the temple of his Body." Some of those who heard him understood him to speak of the literal temple. This they charged was blasphemy, because it took years to build the temple, and for Jesus to rebuild it in three days would mean a claim on his part of Divine power. But the charge did not seem sufficiently strong, even for those who had premeditated his murder. They wanted something to give a color of charge, at least, to their findings. So the chief-priest thought to get Jesus to commit himself in their presence and said, "Adjure thee by the Living God to tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God." Jesus replied that this was true and that they would yet see him in heavenly glory and power at the right hand of Divine favor. This, the High Priest declared, was sufficient proof of blasphemy. "Behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. What reply ye?" And the council answered that he was worthy of death. The rabble in the Court, hearing the commotion, felt an liberty to abuse this prisoner, as they had done others. They showed their contempt of him by spitting upon him. They derided him by smiting him and saying, "Prophesy, tell who smote thee. 'He was reviled, yet reviled not again.'

That old sheep that snuffles will be done for before spring. Let her go now.

To have good-seized sheep they must be grown rapidly while young, and it is important to give them a good start.

Be sure there are no ticks on the ewes. It is very costly to winter ticks and it doesn't pay. It is impossible to fatten a sheep infested with ticks. Look out for them.

Bring the fattening pigs from pasture to concentrated feed gradually.

The brood sows should have two compartments, one for feeding and one for sleeping.

Look out carefully for the drainage of the hog pen. Where does it go? Surely it must not find its way to the well or into a stream!

If you don't want your hogs to eat up every hen they can get, give them a variety of food, so that they will not be so carnivorous in their appetite.

Myron H. Crippen, the aged father of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, under sentence of death in London for murder of his wife, died in Los Angeles, Cal., friendless and penniless. His death, due to the infirmities of age, was hastened by grief over his son's crime. He was eighty-three years of age.

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 18.—John Smallwood and James and Reuben Anderson, the latter a prosperous merchant of Elkhorn Creek, this county, were arrested there yesterday by Deputy Marshal Dick Soward charged with moonshining. They were taken to Pikeville for a hearing before United States Commissioner L. E. Gray.

Boiled to death in syrup was the death suffered by the two-year-old son of George Swift, at Metcalfe, Ga. The child, walking backward, fell into the kettle of syrup which was carried by two men and was submerged. His father's arms were burned in an effort to rescue the boy.

In Alexander county, Ill., which is normally Republican by 1,500 majority, the Republican sheriff was defeated for re-election by a Democrat by nearly 1,000 majority. The Republican sheriff had filled the jail at Cairo with negro deputies when whites attacked it to lynch a negro for an assault upon a white girl.

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 19.—The one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Primitive Baptist church at Indian Bottom, in this county—the oldest church in Eastern Kentucky—was celebrated there a few days ago, when steps were taken to erect a new and commodious church building, the construction of which is to begin at once. The church was founded by Elder James Dixon in 1810.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 17.—News received today is that "Bad Jake" Noble, the Breathitt county outlaw, who has been chased for a week by assassination of Jailer Wesley Turner at Jackson, has escaped to Hamilton, O., where already Breathitt county has a considerable colony. Noble appeared there yesterday, according to the report, and was seen by several of his former acquaintances. The Hamilton police are searching for him there today, and his capture is thought to be only a question of time.

Nicholasville, Ky., Nov. 18.—The first accident in the construction of the new Cincinnati Southern railroad bridge over the Kentucky river at High Bridge occurred late yesterday afternoon, when Thomas Bridgeman was killed while handling a piece of timber.

He lost his balance and tumbled into the water 287 feet below. In falling he struck the stone pier on the Mercer county side and his neck was broken. He was about fifty ears old, lived at Petersburg, Va., and leaves a wife and four children.

Grant Evans, of Carter county, recently bought a little farm on Benson, in Franklin county, and when he started to move his effects there he found the railroad rates very high. He had four cows, a calf had one horse to take with him and the railroads told him that the freight on them would be $54. He decided this was exorbitant, so he drove them through the country, stopping over night with various farmers along the route.

and the trip only cost him $8. He says he was never treated nicer in his life by the people he met in Fleming, Nicholas and Bourbon counties, and says the Blue Grass farmers were as generous as any he ever saw.—Frankfort News.

After one of the most successful campaigns in the history of the organization in Kentucky, Judge Alie Young, of Morehead, chairman of the State Democratic Campaign Committee, and Henry R. Prewitt, of Mount Sterling, secretary of the committee, abandoned the headquarters at the Louisville Hotel and have returned to their homes. Both of them worked earnestly in the cause in Kentucky and were naturally elated over the success of the ticket. To Chairman Young is due no small amount of the credit for the victory of W. J. Fields over Congressman J. B. Bennett, Republican, in the Ninth district. This is Judge Young's home district and he was particularly anxious to redeem it.—Louisville Times.

Paris, Ky., Nov. 19.—Smarting under a reprimand administered by her teacher for an infraction of the school regulation, Minnie White Gentry, a fourteen-year-old school girl, residing with her parents here, suicided by shooting herself through the heart. Death resulted instantly. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Earlington, Ky., Nov. 19.—Although legally married Hugh Chanyey, of this city, aged seventeen, and Miss Willie Poole, aged twelve years, of Nortonville, are not living together. The boy's mother and brother were in favor of the marriage and accompanied the couple to Springfield, Tenn., where the marriage took place.

Jeff Poole, father of the girl, a coal miner at Nortonville, was violently opposed to the match on account of a personal dislike for the boy and also on account of the tender years of his daughter. When the train on which the couple returned came through Nortonville Poole jumped on the train, seized his daughter by the arm and informed the husband and relatives that he was going to take the girl home.

He took the girl off the train and that is the last her husband has seen of her. The husband, brother and mother protested against the actions of Poole but to no effect.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 19.—Reliable persons arriving here from Jackson today bring news that "Bad Jake" Noble, the much-wanted Breathitt county desperado, has not left his native health, as reported, and gone to Ohio, but that he was seen near Jackson yesterday, accompanied by five of his henchmen, all heavily armed.

The Breathitt authorities, according to the reports received here, are not making a determined effort to capture him, knowing that such an attempt would be little short of suicide to those making the attempt.

Since Noble shot down Jailer Wesley Turner in cold blood on the night of November 8 and escaped, he is said to be among his people entrenched among the fastnesses of the mountains in the eastern end of Breathitt county and says he will never be taken alive.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 20.—State guards arrived today from Lyon county, where a company is doing patrol duty, to do service during the session of the United States Court which convenes tomorrow morning. Federal Judge Walter Evans arrived this evening. The soldiers will be on duty in the courtroom during the trial of so-called "night rider" damage suits to prevent a possible outbreak. There are several suits pending and the total amount of damages sought is about $200,000.

Attorney Hal Corbett, who represents several defendants, says the suits will go to trial. With the exception of these suits the docket is small.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 20.—locked in a room at their home in Athens a small town in this county, Thomas Miller, the village blacksmith, and his son-in-law, D. D. Whistman, this afternoon fought with shotgun and pistol until Miller was killed. Mrs. Whistman, respectively the daughter and wife of the combatants, was the only spectator. Miller was about 60 years old, and had for many years conducted the blacksmith shop at Athens.

Several days ago he roundly abused Whistman, declaring that he himself would have to pay the doctor's bill for Whistman's wife who has been ill for several weeks. About 12:30 o'clock this afternoon he went to his house, where he found Whistman and his wife alone in their room on the first floor. Locking the door through which he had entered, Miller turned on Whistman and asked him who was going to pay that doctor bill. Whistman answered that he was.

"No, you won't," Miller is said to have exclaimed.

"I'm going to kill you, you trifling, good-for-nothing loafer," he said, and seized an old double-barrel shotgun which hung upon the wall. His daughter, fearing that he would shoot, seized his hand, and when he pulled the trigger the first shot went wild, entering the ceiling. He fired again and again but missed his mark, this time the shot striking the wall over the door.

Whistman in the meantime had drawn a revolver and began firing, shooting three times in all. The last shot entered the side of the face, ranging downward through the neck and passing out through the shoulder and killing him instantly.

When redistricting time comes around we want it distinctly understood that we don't want to be assembled with Mingo and McDowell counties in any thing. Wayne is trying to be respectable, and when we are always and forever caught in such company it causes remarks to be made about us that are unjust. Just as a suggestion we think that Mingo, McDowell and Mercer would make a good district for all purposes,—congressional, judicial and senatorial. And then watch 'em fight.

As an after-thought, you might put Wyoming in, too. It went Democratic lately, it is true, but we would just like to see that county get its fill of McDowell once.—Wayne News.

Mr. James Dupuy presents an interesting problem and one which will probably give the election officials in West Virginia some hours of worry and study. His son, Ir. Elbert, sent him a sample ballot showing that a man named Brown, who was on the Democratic ticket as a candidate for commissioner of court had received fifty votes. Brown was also on an Independent ticket having been endorsed by the Independents and on this ticket he received fifty votes, making a total of one hundred people who voted for him. The Republican candidate, Mr. Simms, received seventy-five votes. Now the question arises who is elected. The matter will be decided by state election machinery of each.

After The Grippe

"I am much pleased, to be able to write and thank you for what Cardui has done for me," writes Mrs. Sarah J. Gilliland, of Siler City, N. C.

"Last February, I had the Grippe, which left me in bad shape. Before that, I had been bothered with female trouble, for ten years, and nothing seemed to cure it.

"At last, I began to take Cardui. I have taken only three bottles, but it has done me more good than all the doctors or than any other medicine I ever took."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

For the after-effects of any serious illness, like the Grip, Cardui is the best tonic you can use.

It builds strength, steadies the nerves, improves the appetite, regulates irregularities and helps bring back the natural glow of health.

Cardui is your best friend, if you only knew it.

Think of the thousands of ladies whom Cardui has helped! What could possibly prevent it from helping you?

Remember you cannot get the benefit of the Cardui ingredients in any other medicine, for they are not for sale in any drug store except in the Cardui bottle. Try Cardui.
